Transfer your holdings to your Trading Account

Complete this section to confirm whether you want to transfer holdings from your existing broker to your nabtrade Trading Account.

By default, no transfer will be completed and a new HIN will be created on your account unless otherwise stated.

Notes: Section 10 is not applicable to the nabtrade Global Market Trading service. You can't transfer International Securities into your nabtrade Global Market Trading Account.

By transferring your HIN across from your existing broker, you will not need to update TFN, direct credit and distribution details, which you will be required to do if you later choose to transfer holdings in line by line. By transferring your HIN across, all that information is retained.

Sample of a CHESS Holding Statement

PID

Is an acronym for Participant Identification Number. This is the Broker's identification number. Our PID is 1227.

Broker Sponsored Holdings

If your shares are Broker Sponsored, you will have a Holder Identification Number (HIN) allocated to your holding rather than a Shareholder Reference Number (SRN), which starts with an 'X'. You can be sponsored on CHESS by more than one broker or institution and you can even maintain holdings in the same security under different sponsorships.

Holder Identification Number (HIN)

HIN stands for Holder Identification Number. It's the number by which CHESS identifies and registers holdings. It also identifies the broker with which you hold financial products.

Related definitions

CHESS stands for Clearing House Electronic Sub-register System. The CHESS Settlement Facility is a computerised share registry and settlement system operated by the ASX Settlement Pty Ltd (ASX Settlement), a subsidiary of the ASX. CHESS records an account's share ownership via the ASX's computer-based share and settlement transaction system. An account's security holdings are recorded against their HIN and a statement is sent out to their registered address.

Issuer Sponsored Holdings are maintained by the Share Registry on behalf of the Issuer of your shares.

Shareholder Reference Number is a unique number that identifies you as an Issuer Sponsored holder with a listed company. A SRN usually starts with the letter 'I' eg. I0012345678. If you hold shares in more than one company and choose to be Issuer Sponsored, you will have a different SRN for each shareholding.

Explanation of the Limitation on Benefits Article and Treaty Statement

Note that this document/explanation is not intended for natural persons (individuals) resident in Australia, the Federal, Provincial or Municipal Government or any agency of any such government.

This explanation is meant to assist certain clients in obtaining only a general understanding of their requirements under the new withholding tax rules. It is not intended to be, nor should it be construed to be, legal or tax advice to any client, prospective or otherwise. Clients are encouraged to consult a registered tax agent for further clarification, if required.

The changes impact certain clients that currently claim reduced rates of withholding tax on investment income earned on U.S. securities under the Australian-U.S. Income Tax Convention 2002, (herein after referred to as the "Treaty"). In order to continue enjoying the reduced Treaty rates of withholding tax on U.S. investment income received after January 1, 2001, certain clients must certify that they are eligible for Treaty Benefits. Failure to certify the Treaty Statement above would result in the application of non-treaty rate withholding (generally 30%) on the client's U.S. source investment income. This is in comparison to Treaty reduced rates of generally 15% on U.S. source dividends and 10% on U.S. source interest.

As part of the certification process, affected clients are asked to certify the TREATY STATEMENT above. [Name of account holder] meets all the provisions of the Treaty that are necessary to claim a reduced rate of withholding, including any limitation on benefits provision, and derives the income within the meaning of section 894 of the Code, and the regulations thereunder, as the beneficial owner.

The reference to section 894 of the Code and the regulations there under, refers to the Internal Revenue Service Income Tax Code and the related Income Tax Regulations.

The Limitation on Benefits ("LOB") Article, found in Article 16 of the Treaty defines who can sign the above statement. Certification of the above statement indicates that the recipient of U.S. source income meets the definition of a "qualifying person" as set forth in Article 16 of the Treaty. Treaty benefits may still be available to clients that are not "qualifying persons", if that person satisfies other tests stipulated in the Treaty.

Qualifying Persons

Listed below are various entities that could meet the definition of a “qualifying person” under Article 16 of the Treaty. These entities could continue to enjoy reduced withholding rates once they certify the LOB Treaty statement. Note that there are various tests which must be met by each entity in order to be classified as a “qualified person. This is not intended to be an exhaustive list.

1. Publicly Traded Companies or Trusts
2. Subsidiaries of Publicly Traded Companies or Trusts
3. Private Companies and Unlisted Trusts
4. Not-for-Profit Organizations
5. Complying Superannuation Entities etc.

Non-Qualifying Persons

A person that is a resident of Australia but does not fit into one of the categories for “qualifying persons”, listed above, may still be entitled to treaty benefits if it is engaged in the active conduct of a trade or business in Australia (as defined in Article 16(3) of the Treaty).
